THE MISSOURI CAMPAIGN. Severnor Stone Discusses State's Rights and A. P. A. at Carthage. CARTHAGE, Mo., Oct. 1 .- Governor Stone made his opening speech here Saturday night at the court house to a great audience. Many were turned away. He held an informal reception throughout the day. The governor devoted a large portion of his speech to the question of state's rights and the A. P. A. After setting forth his the A. P. A. After setting forth his ideas of Demogratic principles against federalism he said:

"The indissolubility of the union is, thank God, firmly, and, I hope for-ever, established; the rights and powers of the states are now in jeopardy. The union is in no danger of assault from any quarter; the gen-eral government is absolutely secure. The danger is to the states. Federalism, over-mastering and omnipotent, is the deadly enemy now menacing the institutions of our country. It is a continuation, I have said, of the old war between Hamilton and Jefferson. It is even more than that; for then federalism struggled only to organize the government, while now it seeks to overthrow what was established and to substitute what was rejected.
"I protest against the right assumed by the federal authorities of exercising police power in the state of Missouri, or in any other state of this union. Time and again the Demo-cratic party in national convention have declared "that it is inexpedient and dangerous to use doubtful consti-tutional powers." The authorities of this state are both willing and able to suppress local disorders and preserve the peace without any arbitrary or officious external interference. look with disfavor and resentment upon whatever infringes upon the sovereign rights of this common-wealth. I disapprove it not only be-cause it conflicts with those great fundamental principles of general application to which I have referred at length, but also and especially be-repeated declarations of the Missouri

Democracy and the wise provision of our state constitution."

conflicts alike with the oft-

Mr. Stone declared that he loved the nation as well as any man could, but he loved the union of the states more. He next attacked the A. P. A. bitterly. In speaking of the Cath-olics in the state of Missouri holding office he said: "Out of saventeen senators and members of congress only two are Cataolics, even by courtesy. Of the ten elective state officers only two, the lieutenant governor and one of the railroad commissioners, are Catholics, and one of those is now about to retire. Of the seven supreme court judges not one is a Catholic. Of all the appellate and circuit judges and all the appointive bureau officers and clerical force in the service of the state, not exceeding ten per cent are Catholics. And yet these mouthing mischief makers are fuming and frothing because a few Catholics are appointed policemen of St Louis or Kausas City. And not half so many of those as they claim; for in their jaundiced vision one Catholic, especially one Irish Catholic, like a form between two mirrors under-neath a lighted chandeller, is easily multiplied into a million."

The governor next discussed the tariff in general terms, and then spoke for free coinage at considerable length. In closing he appealed to Western Democrats to stand together for the West.

MYSTERIONS POISONING.

Serion and Organist of a St. Louis Church Eat a Fatal Lunch.

Sr. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1. - Joseph Cunningham, sexton of St. Peter's Episcopal church, is dead and S. F. Beckett, the organist, is dying from the effects of the administration of some violent poison in a lunch, of which both partook in the church. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the murder, as it is believed to be, nor is there any explanation of the mystery. to practice upon the organ for the Sabbath service, and according to the fragmentary story told by him, he partook of a lunch which the sexton procured, just how, or where, is not as vet known.

George Thompson, colored, ex-sexton of the church, removed to make place for Cunning ham, is under arrest, but the evidence to connect him with the affair is very slight.

Paced a Mile in 1:50 1-2. CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Oct. 1 .- Flying Jib made a wonderful showing here yesterday morning. Andy McDowell was working him out and had him hitched to a high-wheeled pneumatic wagon with a running mate hitched. The pacer scored several times and finally McDowell gave the word to those who were in the judge's stand. The gelding paced away beautifully. He went the heat in 1:00 and finished the last half in 1:59 4. The performance has excited the horsemen greatly as it was the fastest mile ever paced under similar circumstances.

The senator predicted the election of Hill, whom he considered a most remarkable man, and continuing, he said: "I do not regard Hill as a great man, or as the possessor of a great intellect, but he is a great worker, without any appetite or passions, and is what you might term a political corporation. Senator Hill represents the fighting Democracy of New York. He voted against the tariff bill on account of the income tax and not because he objected to its provisions as to tariff duties on sugar or anything else. He agreed with G rman and Brice on every part of the bill except the inond, because he didn't want to drive from the Democratic party in New York the men who make liberal subscriptions for campaigns. Hill is a practical politician and if he has any sentiment it is hatred to Cleveland.

TOO MUCH COCAINE.

Performers of the Operation Have Been Arrested.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 .- Belle White, 23 years of age, daughter of Benjamin S. White, a wealthy lumberman. died at Wood's hotel yesterday morning about 10 o'clock while under treatment for the removal of facial blemishes. Death was caused, it is supposed, by the use of coconine to deaden the pain from the application of an electric current which constituted the means of treatment. The operator was Dr. Sophie Santa of the Dr. Sophie Santa company. Eliza A. James, the business partner of Dr. Santa, was assisting in the operation at the time. In one hand Dr. Santa held the electric needle and in the "He determined not to give up his hold in New York whatever might happen, and he played the opposition she applied at intervals to deaden the intense pain caused by the needle, She had almost completed the treatment, when Miss White gasped for breath, and before the operator could assist her, she slid from the chair to the floor, dead. Aid was hastily summoned and restoratives applied, but without avail, the young woman having died almost instantly. Dr. Tail-man, the only physician called, arrived too late to be of any assistance, and as the people in room 44, where the dead girl lay, acted in a rather strange manner, he informed the police and Dr. Santa, with her assistants, were locked up until the exact cause of the young woman's death is known. There is no thought, how-ever, that the death was the result of anything but an accident. Dr. Tallman described his visit as follows: "When I reached the room I heard, told the woman I was a physician, and brushing her aside, found two men making vigorous efforts to revive a woman. As soon as I looked upon the woman I saw she was dend. I said 'you can not do anything; that woman is dead."

"The elderly woman who opened the door began lamenting and cried out: 'I only used a 4 per cent solution. That would not have killed her.' 'A 4 per cent solution of what?' I asked. She replied 'cocaine.' She said the young lady was sitting in a chair while she was at work removing to warrant me in thinking that the interested people intended to hush up the affair if they could. I telephoned to the Harrison street station and advised the arrest of all the parties in the room at once by way of finding out the truth.

"An amusing incident occurred when I left the room that has its serious aspect in showing to what extremes of danger a woman is willing to go in order to beautify her face. In the corridors was an old woman, well dressed. She stopped me and asked if there would be any danger to her in taking the treatment. She said she wanted to get rid of her wrinkles and was ready to try the treatment. I told her of the fate of the young woman and she replied that she knew the girl had died in the chair, but she believed herself strong enough to bear the pain without flinching, obviating the necessity

MAYOR HOPKINS IMPUGNED

Directly Charged With Accepting Bribes from Chicago Gamblers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 .- During the gambling investigation Saturday by the grand jury Detective Matt Pinkerton swore that he had positive evidence that Mayor Hopkins had received money from the gamblers. He said the money was given by the gamblers with the understanding that they were not to be interfered with. The matter was not gone into thoroughly, but it will be made the subject of further investigation.

The Trade and Labor assembly, it is reported, is to start a crusade against high-toned gambling. The board of trade, it is said, is to be attacked, and Washington park race track is also in line as a place where rich people bet their money. Club waiters, it is claimed, will reveal secrets, and card games on Michigan boulevard as well as on Clark street will be made public.

It is reported that repeated attempts have been made on the life of Judge Brentano, who in his judicial capacity has ordered the destruction of paraphernalia taken in raids upon gambling hells. In one instance it is said he was fired upon in his bedchamber. The bullets came from across the way. There is no clue to the would be assassin.

The present grand jury returned its final report to-day, finding twenty in-dictments against owners of property used for gambling rooms. Several leading people were among those in-dicted, among them J. Irving Pierce, proprietor of the Sherman house; Owen F. Aldice, the capitalist, and James R. Todd, a wealthy real estate

The grand jury will be reconvened and the investigation carried on, backed by the civic federation.

In addition to the property owners about fifty men were indicted, charged with keeping gambling houses. Among those indicted was George V. Hankins, owner of the New Harlem race track, and his business partner, William Wightman.
